After 44 years as a teacher, Toni Gazzaniga is retiring. Her educational path included GHS English teacher, adjunct professor at Marist, Burke Catholic English Department Chair, and Applied Arts Supervisor at a Vo-Tech Center in MA. Toni's retirement goals include travelling to Italy to take drawing and voice lessons, teaching at Marist, volunteering for the San Miguel Academy in Newburgh, returning to Nantucket, and spending more time with granddaughters Alma Grace and Sophia Hope in Utah. agazzani@gcsny.org

Neal Goldstein has been teaching Math at the Goshen High School for the past 16 years. Prior to this, he was an Air Force officer, served in various capacities in communication and computer services, and even launched a computer service business that employed hundreds of people. Neal and his bride, Fran, have three children and four grandchildren. Retirement will afford more time for golf, travel, and community. Neal thinks Goshen is a great place to work and wishes the best for the district and his colleagues. ngolstein@gcsny.org

For the past seven years, Joan Kissinger has been a Literacy Specialist at Goshen Intermediate School. In this role, she has been actively involved in staff development and lesson modeling. As building Academic Intervention Services coordinator, she has provided guidance and strategies to address ELA issues. During literacy week, Joan promoted reading through class guest readers, related activities and community involvement. As retirement approaches, she is planning on spending more time with her husband, grandchildren, 4-H, and gardening. jkissinger@gcsny.org

Mary Ann Knight has served the GCS D in three tenure areas. She began her career in 1987 as a GHS English teacher and also worked as K-12 ELA coordinator and advisor to the GHS Gladiator newspaper. In 2000, Mary Ann interned in administration and became GHS assistant principal in 2001. She moved to GIS as principal in 2005. In retirement, she plans to write and teach at college level. Mary Ann also hopes to enjoy some travel time with her husband, George, and to spend more time with their children and grandchildren. mknight@gcsny.org

Judy Hassler Moran, recipient of the 2009 SUNY New Paltz Dean's Award for Excellence, has taught GHS biology since 1986. During her years in GHS, she has been Department Head of Science and advisor to the National Honor Society, Environmental Club, and the Academic Team. She also served as treasurer to the GTA Executive Board for 18 years. Judy and her husband Denis are busy settling into their Catskills home and bringing back their gardens after ten years of benign neglect. Their plans for retirement are to sleep past 5:00AM, to enjoy the mountains, and to travel. jadmoran@yahoo.com

In Becky Rochelle's own words: "I have been a teacher for 29 years, 25 of them in the Goshen School District. During retirement, I am looking forward to spending more time with family, reading, and gardening. Hopefully, more travel will be in my future." Becky has been very actively involved in the district. Student based activities like the Geography Bee and Hobby Night combined with active participation in GTA Executive Board and Social Committee are a sampling of her dedication to education. brochell@gcsny.org

Cindy Vanchy started teaching in 1972 in Enfield, CT. In January of 1982, she was hired as a special education teacher at GIS. Following her K-12 Reading Certification, Cindy was the reading specialist, Head of Chapter One Services, GISORF advisor, and writing workshop mentor in the classrooms. Then she moved to her second home, the high school, as a special education teacher and a pioneer in the inclusion classroom. She is presently GHS Department Head of Special Education. Cindy and her husband plan to reside in Melbourne, FL where she hopes to read and write into oblivion. cvanchy@gcsny.org
